GUARD STABS SPECTATOR

Helpless Man Bayoneted by a Militiaman

AT A TAFT RECEPTION

Victim Was Pushed by Crowd Across Wire Dead Line at Dallas, Tex. President Leaves for St. Louis.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 25.—Peter Richenstein deputy county clerk of this city was run through with a bayonet at the fair grounds as President Taft finished speaking and left for his hotel. Richenstein died yesterday morning. A member of the Texas National Guard named Manley was immediately arrested by the police and is held without bail.

Manley was yesterday visited at the jail by his wife, but no lawyers had been in consultation with him. Many citizens in Dallas criticize the authorities for having used the militia as a spectacular part of the reception to President Taft. They do not consider that the presence of troops was necessary to preserve order.

Richenstein was close to the heavy wire which aided in keeping the crowd back. As the president's automobile passed, the crowd surged forward. Richenstein was carried with it and, it is asserted, crossed the wire which made a dead line. Manley warning him back struck him across the side of the neck with his rifle in which the bayonet was fixed.

"You should not hit me; they are pushing me from behind," Richenstein is alleged to have cried.

Then, it is charged, Manley drew back and before the horrified people near him could restrain him, ran Richenstein through the chest with his bayonet. The young man sank to the ground and the crowd close to him tried to draw back. The pressure from behind swept them close to the dying man, in whom life was almost extinct before he could be placed in an ambulance and rushed to a hospital.

Realizing that the crowd was in a mood for violence, the police, which were at the fair in force, rushed Manley into a conveyance and he was off the grounds before many of the crowd knew what had happened. The victim may live until morning.

Richenstein is about 30 years old, is married, has one child and is well known and popular. He was for a long time employed in the city tax collector's office, but had lately been advanced to a place in the office of the county collector of taxes.

The president's voice was so husky Saturday that he did not attempt long speeches.

At Beville, Texas, while the president was discussing postal savings banks there came a voice from the crowd:

"Where do you put your money, Bill?"

"Well," laughed the president in response, "I haven't much to put anywhere. When you have been in politics and public office as long as I have you won't have much either."

"After looking on you the thought that first comes to my mind is that they raise good men in Texas as well as a good many other things."

"I am very glad to have this opportunity of seeing you. I am glad to be able to look into your face and to congratulate you on having an opportunity, under the auspices of the state, to learn or to get what is now called a vocational education. We have gone long steps ahead in the matter of education and especially under state auspices, in teaching the young men something that is useful for them in after life; so that they can begin right away."

"To those who have time to indulge in a classical education it is all right, but there are many of us not so situated and many of us will learn to accept the opportunity to go into engineering, into farming, into those things that we are going to do all the time. Now, that is what you are doing, and I am sure you are improving every minute. If you are engaged in farming, you don't have to go far to try it."

"I have been through your state during the past week and if you will put the new processes with respect to irrigation and reclamation into force, you will make a state that will be so big you won't know what to do with it."

"To the colored residents of the Prairie View school the president said:

"I congratulate you on the opportunities for useful education which you are receiving under the auspices of the state of Texas, and I congratulate the state that it makes no distinction in furnishing those educational facilities to all its citizens."

President Taft's train left Dallas yesterday morning for St. Louis.

FOURTEEN NEW BABIES CAME DAY AFTER CIRCUS

In The Stork Cargo Were Two Sets of Triplets, Three of Twins and Two Singles.

Danville, Va., Oct. 25.—In the same suburb of Danville, in the same neighborhood and on the same day two sets of triplets, three pairs of twins and two regular babies, a total of fourteen children, born to seven families, is the unprecedented record of Schoolfield. The stork came in the wake of the circus that visited the city the day before, and he left something of a circus behind him. The record is summed as follows.

To Mrs. John W. Yancey, triplets, two of which are living to Mrs. Jacob C. Brown, triplets, two of which are living; to Mrs. J. W. Barber, twins, girl and boy, both healthy; to Mrs. Jane Anderson, twins, both boys, both well; to Mrs. P. P. Griddle, twins, boy and girl, both lusty and sound; to two other women in the same neighborhood, daughters.

Residents of the village are looking forward with interest to another circus today.

Mrs. Yancey is a bride of a little more than a year. Mrs. Brown has been previously blessed with several children. Mrs. Barber was already the mother of a pair of twins. The boy and girl presented Mrs. Griddle are her first children.

Avoid Harsh Drugs

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called REXALL ORDELS. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store, The Rexall Store, Red Cross Pharmacy, Burt H. Wells, proprietor.

HAS 5 WIVES SOUGHT SIXTH

Woman in Court Forces Polygamist to Confess

ENDS HOPE OF A SIXTH

Grizzled and Shabby Man, Arrested as "Suspicious," Almost Bluffs the Yonkers Police Into Releasing Him.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 25.—When confronted by one of his wives in court Saturday, John J. Tremper of Newburgh admitted that he had already five wives was on his way to marry a sixth, Miss Mary E. Main of New London, Conn.

The woman who identified her husband in court said he wooed her under the name of John S. Kester at Norwood, N. Y.

Tremper was arrested Saturday as a suspicious person, and it was a coincidence that Mrs. Kester was in court when he was arraigned. She had received a letter from him dated at Yonkers, and had come here to look for him, she said.

The prisoner said that he had married his last four wives under the name of Kester. His first wife, he said, was Mrs. A. Wilson of Newburgh, N. Y., whom he married 25 years ago. Wife No. 2 was a Mrs. Lyman of Utica, N. Y., in 1898. His next venture was in 1900 with Miss Susie A. Meyers of Westminister, Penn., while in 1906 he married Miss Louise Culbert of Wilkesbarre, Penn. His last wife was Miss Carrie Allen of Norwood, N. Y., whom he married in Camden last June.

Tremper will be held here to await extradition papers from Camden.

STOLE DIAMOND RING.

Detroit, Oct. 25.—Driven desperate by losses totaling over $1,000 at Windsor race track, A. W. Crossman of Boston, a member of a select family of that city and a Mystic Shriner, dashed from Joseph Crosslight's pawnshop late Saturday night with a $250 diamond ring, which he had asked to look at.

The clerk rushed hatless and coatless after his quarry, and the chase was a short one. Desiring to rid himself of all evidence, Crossman gave the ring to a boy who had caught up with him.

Crossman was captured a few blocks further on and taken to the police station.

Crossman was spending his honeymoon in Detroit with his bride of two weeks, whom he married in Woodstock, Ont. His mother, he says, was killed in New Brunswick while on the wedding. It is assumed that Crossman's desperation, following his loss on the race track, coupled with the bereavement suffered by his mother's death, caused him to forget himself. Mrs. Crossman is in a state of collapse and says she knew nothing of her husband's gambling proclivities.

Canal Digging is Half Done.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Half the excavation which the American engineers estimated would be necessary when they undertook the completion of the Panama canal after the purchase of the French interests is completed according to calculations made by the Isthmian canal commission.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N. J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life.

I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering.

—Mrs. George Jompy, Box 40, Marlton, N. J. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, period pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

SHOT ACTRESS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF

Wm. Short, Paroled Bank Teller, Attempts Murder in Union Station at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Evelyn Short, whose stage name is Evelyn Howard, a chorus girl with the "Motor Girl" company, was shot three times by her husband, William Short of New York, a paroled convict, at the Union station here yesterday. Short then turned his pistol on himself, sending a bullet through his right temple, and died about half an hour later. Mrs. Short is at the same hospital with three bullets in her left side. Physicians said last night that there was a good chance for her recovery.

Short, who had been a teller in a New York bank, had been found short in his accounts some time ago and served a term in Sing Sing.

Yesterday's shooting followed a series of quarrels which the couple have had since Friday, when Short came here from New York or Newark and endeavored to have his wife leave the stage and return to New York with him. Yesterday morning she started for the station to go to Pittsburg, where her company will begin its performances to-night. With her in the cab were her husband and Miss Mabel Caldwell, another member of the "Motor Girl" company, according to Miss Caldwell.

Short acted in an ugly way toward his wife on the way to the station and several times took hold of her roughly, when Mrs. Short threatened to scream. Short told her if she screamed he would make her sorry.

Short kept insisting that his wife return to New York with him, but she declined and said she was going to Pittsburg with the company. When the station was reached Miss Caldwell said the husband was infuriated and Mrs. Short sprang out of the cab terrified. Her husband followed and both stumbled. Both regained their feet and Mrs. Short, who had evidently caught a glimpse of a pistol, ran down the portico screaming.

Short followed and called for her to stop. She half turned and cried out, "Don't shoot me, Will, please don't!" Short fired and she sank to the pavement. Short came up and standing over her, fired two shots more into her body. He then placed the weapon to his right temple and pulled the trigger and fell beside his wife.

KILLED GIRL AND SELF.

Young Man and Woman Found Dead in Buggy with Bullets in Bodies.

Clay Center, Neb., Oct. 25.—Leroy Foster, aged 24, and Inez Cox, aged 29, were yesterday found sitting upright in Foster's buggy, both dead. The horses were tied to a telephone pole by the roadside. Indications are that Foster first shot the girl through the heart and afterward put a bullet through his own head. A murder and suicide pact between the two is believed to have existed.

MAGAZINE REVIEW

Operating a Phonograph.

One need not be afraid of operating a machine too constantly, as there is little danger of wearing it out; and the motor will give better service when used frequently than when allowed to stand unused. In all cases, avoid winding the spring too tightly; stop when it offers strong resistance. In many cases, it is specifically stated that the needles should not be used more than once, and these directions should be observed; not to follow them means almost certain damage to the records. The machine should be kept well oiled; otherwise its motion will become sluggish. Sewing-machine oil may be used for that purpose. The records should be kept free from dust, as dirt clogs the sound wave grooves and tends to give a scratchy sound to the reproduction. A good record-cleaner may be made by gluing a small piece of velvet carpet to a wooden block. Such a cleaner always should be used on dusty records before they are placed on the machine.—Suburban Life for November.

Gold Dust Makes Dish-washing easy

The use of a little Gold Dust in your dish-water will make your dishes whiter, sweeter and cleaner than they ever can be without it. Unlike soap, Gold Dust does more than clean the surface. It goes deep after germs and hidden food particles, and sterilizes everything it touches.

Gold Dust does all the hard part of the work without your assistance, because it begins to dissolve and clean the moment it touches the water.

When you have to wash dishes 1005 times a year the Gold Dust method of saving half your time and half your labor, means something.
